Congratulations on completing Swayam's Personality Assessment!

Introduction

As an adult you need to make many decisions about yourself. Your decisions can be sound only when you know yourself thoroughly and when you are able to understand what your needs and dreams are for yourself and your future.

Knowing your needs and dreams will help you to identify jobs, roles, partners, who will be able to complement you and your personality well which in turn helps you to succeed in both professional and personal life.

At this stage of your life, getting an accurate assessment based on your personality and dominant traits, passions, strengths and weaknesses will enable you to strategize your strengths and try to overcome your weaknesses to take informed decisions about the kind of job roles that would suit you and areas where you would do well.

Knowing yourself will also enable you to think, write and articulate these things when you need to answer questions about yourself in a variety of situations starting from writing essays to get into your dream educational institutes, job interviews, conversations about your likes and dislikes in all aspects of your life.

This report will help you to apply these learnings about yourself in every aspect of your life.

The Self - Growth Report has the following sections:
